You have been admitted to a history course at Lund University.

You are most welcome!

You must register on the course via the student portal to keep your place before the course starts. Both the web registration and the first meeting are mandatory; please inform the department if you are unable to register or attend the first lecture. Otherwise, your admission cannot be guaranteed. To inform the department: state your name, date of birth and the course name to the administrator's office, e-mail: hist@hist.lu.se.

For web registration and introduction meetings, see your welcoming letter or Introduction meetings spring 2021

If you are not planning on attending this course, please decline it at www.antagning.se, making it available for applicants on the waiting list.

More information about the course will be given to you at the introduction meeting,

You can find the time for the first meeting, instructions on web registration, the syllabus, schedule, and literature list on the course website, see:

<https://www.hist.lu.se/en/education/courses-by-semester/historia/VT2021/>

The coronavirus pandemic continues to affect our study programmes during the spring semester and teaching and examination may be carried out digitally with a few exceptions. During the semester you will find information via your learning platform Canvas or on the course website on how your particular education will be carried out. The information on: <https://www.hist.lu.se/en/education/covid-19> is updated regularly.

For teaching elements that are carried out on campus, there is practical information on what applies on our premises so that we together can maintain a safe study environment. Read more at: <https://www.ht.lu.se/en/education/admission/practical-information-during-the-semester>

You will find the Department of History on Helgonavägen 3 (maps.google.se: <https://goo.gl/maps/XjxzP>).

I hope you will enjoy studying at our department,
Mikael Ottosson, Director of studies
